IDENTEC SOLUTIONS Norway Welcomes New Managing Director Dr. Urban Siller

December 2017

Dr. Urban Siller has been appointed the new Managing Director of wireless locating and sensing solutions provider IDENTEC SOLUTIONS Norway and will take up the new post in December 2017.

He brings with him a Doctor in Engineering of the RWTH Aachen/Germany and a Master in Business Management as well as several years of international business experience within companies such as Bertelsmann Arvato, Hilti und Carl Zeiss, the latter of which became global market leader under his direction.

Dr. Siller, who assumed the post of CEO of the company IDENTEC SOLUTIONS AG Austria in 2014, had a successful start with a strong revenue growth in his first year through organisational restructuring, investments in R&D and the launch of new and enhanced products for the oil and gas, mining and tunnelling, ports and terminals and automotive sectors.

Founded 1999 in Austria, IDENTEC SOLUTIONS provides its customers with long-range active RFID and RTLS technology solutions to improve efficiency, safety and security in industrial operating environments. Coming from a proven hardware background, in 2007 IDENTEC SOLUTIONS acquired the Norwegian personnel safety solutions provider, specializing in the oil and gas, mining and tunnelling industries. This significant strategic addition enabled the company to become an established provider of complete solutions. With its five subsidiaries, the company's global acting professional service team provides the same standard and level of service worldwide regardless of the geographical location of a customer's project.

As Managing Director, Dr. Urban Siller will take on the responsibility of ensuring positive business growth and significantly contribute to the strategic success and global business activity of IDENTEC SOLUTIONS.
